CANYON CUSTOM

THE CHOICE OF PROFESSIONALS

Throughout the west, Canyon Custom has become the manufacturer of choice by quality minded home builders, architects and interior designers, and for good reason.

Professionals appreciate our insistence on the highest quality design, workmanship, and durability. As a result, Canyon Custom has become one of the leading producers of fine solid-wood doors, offering the West's largest selection of precision crafted doors for home and commercial use.

At Canyon Custom, we use only the best kiln-dried woods, chosen for long-lasting durability, and all products are engineered for years of trouble free operation. So, when it comes to selecting doors, remember - nothing enhances and enriches the look of your home like doors by Canyon Custom.

STOCK DOORS

Canyon Custom proudly serves door shops throughout the United States, paying close attention to your customer's needs. We offer the most extensive stock door program in the West, specializing in Old World series Knotty Alder. Featuring interior and exterior doors in four different styles in various sizes, these doors are readily available, with thousands on hand.

Not only are wood doors the choice of professional designers and architects, they are made completely of a renewable resource, as nearly two billion trees are planted each year on private and public lands. A Canyon Custom constructed wood door combined with proper weather stripping and routine maintenance provides the ultimate barrier to noise, cold and heat.
